MERKLE RETIREMENT PLANNING

After difficulty procuring an on-time and budget project with a previous design team, Merkle Financial Planning engaged JCorp to conceive a new solution to their needs. The building includes office space for a growing financial planning team, an event space for seminars and filming their weekly television program, and a welcoming lobby and conference rooms for meeting with clients. Warm wood tones welcome clients into an inviting atmosphere. At the same time, contemporary styling shows the cutting-edge service provided to clients, and JCorp's in-house design and construction teams worked to find creative solutions to surpass the client's expectations, all while ensuring an on-budget and schedule project delivery.
